Jennuwine Design

Handmade and hand-painted wearable paper art jewelry.

The Beauty of God's creation is my inspiration.

Seems I've been creating things most of my life. I like using a mixed Media approach to give you that one of a kind piece of wearable art.

Many steps go into making a piece of Jennuwine Design wearable art paper jewelry.

Your one of a kind piece could have started from one of my original paintings or part of a magazines, a piece of junk mail, a cereal boxes or more. You never know and that's part of the fun of the creative process.

In some of my designs I've chosen to add pieces of discarded jewelry or pieces of metals or other discarded things. It's however the piece speaks to me.

Just about anything could be repurposed. All you need is a little imagination. Recycle Reuse Repurpose With Style is what Jennuwine Design is all about.

About Me:

My name is Jennifer (Jen) Zeek

I Born and raised in California, I've always had a love for creating and as my Late mother would say making a mess.

It was through that mess making that I found a passion for creating wearable art and a joy in creating things from paper and discarded objects. My method is my own in Creating a one-of-a-kind unique statement piece.

Because they are each individually HandPainted no two pieces will be alike guaranteeing you a one a kind Jennuwine Design.

My work has been featured in All things paper for exceptional paper jewelry, and in your handmade home magazine.
